By Dr. Cavalli s advice the daily rations had been definitely fixed at 2 lb. 13 oz. 13 dr. per head; this did not include the weight of the cases, but if they were taken into account, the total would be more than 3 lb. 4 oz. 14 dr., the weight which had been at first decided on. On account of this increase it was thought advisable to reduce the number of men in each detachment from four to three, while keeping the same number of sledges. At starting there would not be a man to every sledge; but, after a few days, as the provisions were consumed, the number of sledges would be equal to the number of men. According to my original plan, I had intended...
