Spinoff 2003: 100 Years of Powered Flight - Centennial of Flight, 1903-2003

By National Aeronautics and Space Administration

CreateSpace Independent Publishing Platform. Paperback.

Book Condition: New. This item is printed on demand.

Paperback. 146 pages. Dimensions: 11.0in. x 8.5in. x 0.3in. In this

Centennial of Flight year, it is worth noting for all the amazing progress the age of aviation and space flight has made possible, our gains have not come easily. Every step of the way, the technological breakthroughs that have enabled people to fly around the world and brave explorers to extend our horizons heavenward, were the result of hard work, perseverance, and a willingness to overcome major setbacks.

On February 1, 2003, a terrible tragedy occurred when the NASA family, our Nation, and the world lost seven remarkable individuals, the heroic crew of the Space Shuttle Columbia.

NASA is now working hard to return to space flight operations that are as safe as humanly possible. We are also continuing to pursue our mission goals of understanding and protecting the home planet, exploring the universe and searching for life, and inspiring the next generation of explorers. We hope our unceasing efforts to pioneer the future will provide a fitting tribute to the Columbia seven. This year, which marks NASA's 45th year of conducting aeronautics and space research...
